PRIVACY NOTICE—

Federal and state law require that we establish a privacy policy and inform you of that policy.

We want you to know that it is a top priority to protect your privacy. We do collect personal information about you to insure your cars, home, business, or property. We also collect personal information from you in order to provide you with life insurance, health insurance, or for your financial investments. We pledge to maintain the confidentiality of that information. We do not sell, rent, or give away the information that you have entrusted to us.

This notice describes our current privacy policy and practices.

PRIVACY AND SECURITY-

We have strict polices and procedures in place to safeguard the privacy and security of your personal information. Your personal information, including the data contained in our computers, is protected from unauthorized access. Its use is restricted to employees and others having a business need for the information.

TYPES AND USE OF PERSONAL INFORMATION COLLECTED-

The personal information we collect from you and about you is used to provide and service insurance products. This information varies depending upon whether you are our insured or a prospective insured, and the particular insurance product you have purchased or are considering. Examples of personal information we may collect from you or about you include: your name, address, telephone number, social security number, driver's license number, health, financial, credit, and driving history.

The information may be obtained from an application or claim form, or it may be acquired from other source, such as medical forms or reports, credit reporting agencies. We maintain personal information regarding your transactions with Centralia General Agencies, Inc. such as information about all of your insurance policies, claims, and premiums. We may request additional information in order to service the insurance policies we provide you.

SAFEGUARDING YOUR MEDICAL INFORMATION-

Centralia General Agencies, Inc. shares your concern about the privacy of your medical information. We assure you that we do not rent, sell, or give away your personally identifiable medical information to anyone, or marketing purposes, or for any other reason. We will only use and share personally identifiable medical information for insurance underwriting purposes, to service your policy or a claim, and for other purposes required or permitted by law.

WHEN WE MAY DISCLOSE INFORMATION-

Centralia General Agencies, Inc. respects the confidentiality of your personal information. However, there are circumstances in which we may disclose to third parties information we have about you in order to conduct our business, including processing your application for insurance, servicing your insurance policy or processing an insurance claim, or other service that you may authorize. This may include providing information to a financial institution, but only as it pertains to your insurance policy with our agency. These disclosures may also include providing information in response to a request by regulatory or governmental authorities, other administrators, auditors, or consultants. We will make these disclosures only when they are permitted or required by law. We may also provide your personal information to our office associates in order to provide a service to you or to advise you of additional products and services offered through our agency.

We do not rent, sell, or disclose any of your personal information, regardless of whether you are a current or former customer or insured. In other words, should your relationship with Centralia General Agencies, Inc. end, we will continue to limit disclosures of your personal information in accordance with our stated privacy policy and practices just as we do for those who maintain a continuing relationship with us.
